Laryngologiczne osiągnięcia Andrzeja Janikowskiego (1799–1864)
The laryngological achievements of Andrzej Janikowski (1799–1864)

Andrzej Kierzek

SUMMARY
The professional and scientific activities of Andrzej Janikowski (1799-1864), surgeon, physician of forensic medicine, psychiatrist his thorough medical education in various European medical countries are presented widely. He was a professor of theoretical surgery at Royal Warsaw University. He was a founder of Pharmaceutic School in Warsaw. His therapeutic trials of cure of ulceration of frontal bone and membranous laryngitis are described. He was a good reporter on foreign physicians works.

Hasła indeksowe: historia medycyny, historia otorynolaryngologii, historia chirurgii
Key words: history of medicine, history of otolaryngology, history of surgery